

Ray J SLAMS Kim Kardashian's Story About Kanye West Retrieving Sex Tape for Her Is A 'Lie'

Breaking the fourth wall. Ray J is speaking out after his sex tape drama with ex Kim Kardashian was brought up on Hulu's The Kardashians.

The rapper, 41, seemingly set the record straight after the third episode of the reality series aired on Thursday, April 28. During an emotional scene, the Skims CEO, also 41, revealed Kanye West flew to Los Angeles to retrieve a rumored second sex tape and brought it to her in New York City as she prepared to host Saturday Night Live. However, Ray J claimed the exchange didn't go down the way it was shown.

"All of this is a lie smh," he commented on a Hollywood Unlocked Instagram post, which featured a clip from the show. "Can't let them do this anymore – so untrue."

Hey everyone! Welcome to our channel celebrity fame. In today's video, we are going to talk about Ray J SLAMS Kim Kardashian's Story About Kanye West Retrieving Sex Tape for Her Is A 'Lie'. So, if you want to know all about it then keep watching this video Till the End!

During Thursday's episode, the Selfish author opened a suitcase in her hotel room in front of Kris Jenner, Khloé Kardashian, and more of her posse. "I want to show you guys what [Kanye] got me," she said. "He got me all of the sex tapes back. And he got the computer it was on and the hard drive. He met with Ray J at the airport, and he got it all back for me."

Kim was moved to tears by the gesture as Jenner, 66, praised the Yeezy designer, 44, for his kindness. In a confessional, the KKW Beauty founder said she wanted to protect her family from reliving her past mistake.

"I know Kanye did this for me, but he also did this for my kids," she told the camera, referring to daughters North, 8, and Chicago, 4, and sons Saint, 6, and Psalm, 2. “I want to shield them from as much as I can. If I have the power to or if Kanye has the power to, that is just the most important thing to me and I am so emotional because of it. It just means a lot to me.”

The hard drive didn’t contain any explicit material. “It was just footage of us at a restaurant, at a nightclub [and there was] nothing sexual. Nothing weird,” the California native clarified. “So now I can take a deep breath and not worry about this right before SNL, right before the bar, and right before everything.”

Kim dated Brandy ‘s younger brother in the early 2000s, and the former couple’s leaked sex tape launched her into the spotlight as Keeping Up With the Kardashians premiered in 2007. Last year, Ray J’s former manager Wack 100 claimed he possessed a second video of the exes.

Marty Singer, Kim’s lawyer, denied the existence of another video in a September 2021 statement. “The claim that there is an unreleased sex tape is unequivocally false,” the attorney told Us Weekly. “It is unfortunate that people make these statements to try and get their 15 minutes of fame.”

West previously alleged that he met with Ray J as soon as the drama made headlines. “I went and got the laptop from Ray J myself that night,” he claimed on Hollywood Unlocked with Jason Lee in January, adding that Kim “cried when she saw it.”

The duo was married for nearly seven years before Kim filed for divorce in February 2021. She was declared legally single in March.

Still worth discussing. Kanye West has not remained mum about his estranged wife, Kim Kardashian, since their split.

In February 2021 the Skims founder filed for divorce from the rapper after six years of marriage and months of rumors about an impending separation. A source revealed that the pair “had a big fight” in December 2020 that pushed her to her breaking point.

Kardashian hinted at the reasons behind the split during a June 2021 episode of Keeping Up with the Kardashians. “I just think he deserves someone who will support his every move and go follow him all over the place and move to Wyoming. I can’t do that,” she explained. “He should have a wife that supports his every move and travels with him and does everything, and I can’t. I feel like an f—king failure. It’s my third f—king marriage. Yeah, I feel like a f—king loser. But I can’t even think about that. I want to be happy.”

The reality star elaborated on how West’s relocation to Wyoming affected their marriage during an episode that aired later that month.

“After turning 40 this year, I realized like, ‘No, I don’t want a husband that lives in a completely different state,’” she noted. “To me, I thought, ‘Oh, my God, that’s when we’re getting along the best,’ but then that is sad to me and that’s not what I want. I want someone with that we have the same shows in common. I want someone who wants to work out with me. ... I have all the big things. I have the extravagant everything you can possibly imagine and no one will ever do it like that — I know that and I’m grateful for those experiences — but I think I’m ready for the smaller experiences that I think will mean a lot.”

The KKW Beauty founder insisted during June 2021 Keeping Up with the Kardashians reunion special that there was not “one specific thing that happened on either part” to cause the breakup. Instead, “a general difference of opinions on a few things” led to the decision.

Kardashian and West — who share daughters North and Chicago and sons Saint and Psalm — remained friends after their split. They reunited publicly on multiple occasions: He advised her on her 2021 Met Gala ensemble and her Saturday Night Live hosting debut in October 2021 (during which she joked about their divorce) and she agreed to recreate their wedding at one of his Donda listening parties in August 2021.

“They have more of a friendship and working relationship as they co-parent,” an insider told Us in October 2021, adding that she “will be involved with Kanye’s work ventures and he will be involved with hers.”

The rapper gave a speech about his marriage while visiting Skid Row in November 2021. "The narrative that God wants is for you to see that everything can be redeemed," he said at the time. "In all these relationships, we've made mistakes. I've made mistakes. I've publicly done things that were not acceptable as a husband, but right now today, for whatever reason — I didn't know I was going to be standing right here, I didn't know I was going to be in front of this mic — but I'm here to change that narrative."

He added, "I have to be next to my children as much as possible. So, when I'm out [of] the house, I've got a house right next to the house. I'm doing everything to be right next to the situation."

Later in the speech, he hinted that God will bring them back together, telling the crowd, "If the enemy can separate Kimye, there's going to be millions of families that feel like that separation is OK ... [but] when God — who has already won and is so — brings Kimye together, there's going to be millions of families that are going to be influenced and see that they can overcome the work of the separation, of the trauma of the devil that's used to capitalize and keep people in misery while people step over homeless people to go to the Gucci store."

A star-studded love life. Kim Kardashian 's personal life has been in the spotlight for decades, no matter who she's dated or married.

Since 2000, Kardashian has been married three times. At only 19, she married producer Damon Thomas, who was 10 years older than her. The marriage lasted three years until she called it quits in 2003. She also married NBA star Kris Humphries in 2011 after their romance and engagement were chronicled on Keeping Up with the Kardashians. Unfortunately, only 72 days after the wedding, they split and she filed for divorce in October 2011. They officially split in April 2013 after a messy court battle.

She later explained that she felt pressured to marry Humphries.

"I just thought, 'Holy s—, I'm 30 years old, I better get this together. I better get married,'" the KKW Beauty founder revealed on Watch What Happens Live with

Andy Cohen in 2017. “I think a lot of girls do go through that where they freak out thinking they’re getting old and have to figure it out, all their friends are having kids. It was more of that situation.”

And with that, we have come to the end of our video!

Share your thoughts about the video in the comments below!

And don’t forget to give this video a thumbs up, subscribe to our channel and we will see you all next time!

Thank you for watching!